Denise Ellis
CEO and founder

Denise brings a wealth of knowledge to the benefit of our clients. She founded Conference Contacts back in 1986, following a successful career in five-star hotels both in the UK and South Africa. Her love of events and travel, together with her inside knowledge of the hospitality business, has ensured she has a book of contacts that is the envy of the industry.

Paul Ratcliffe
Non-Executive Director (9 years)

Few can rival Paul's exceptionally strong event industry background. His career spans more than 25 years, having owned Talking Point, one of the UK's largest full-service event management agencies until he sold the company in 2006. We are now harnessing Paul's knowledge of the industry, and the most exclusive and hard-to-reach destinations.

Malcolm Rooker LLB (Hons); ACA
Financial Director & Company Secretary (10 years)

Malcolm brings some 30 years' experience in the financial sector, with companies such as Arthur Andersen and Deloitte. He ensures that the Conference Contacts ethos is rooted in strong governance, and that we work for our clients with total transparency and full accountability.

Martin Gill
Non-Executive Director (3 years)

Martin recently joined the board of Conference Contacts, offering his specialist insight into business trends, customer service and delivery. Martin is a unique character who enthuses his clients and colleagues alike.

Antony Waite
Managing Director (15 years)

Starting out as an event coordinator over 15 years ago, Antony has risen through the ranks to lead the team at Conference Contacts. Having registered thousands of delegates, booked hundreds of venues and managed numerous projects across the world. Antony's attention to detail and meticulous execution is legendary.

Rosalyn Giles
Director – Client Services (21 years)

Rosalyn has worked closely with our clients for 20 years, providing them with full management support across a variety of international events. She also dovetails with the Business Development Team to meet with new and existing clients, giving them a deeper understanding of the services we offer. She takes great pride in our service delivery, which is second to none.

Penny Lewis
Creative Director (2 years)

Penny has been involved in the global events industry for over 30 years, delivering everything from incentives and corporate hospitality to global product launches across the world. Her experience operationally includes creative concepts, brand alignment, multi-supplier and budget management, and delivering show-stopping events for up to 8,000 attendees.

Michael Avery
Director – Operations (11 years)

Michael oversees the day to day event operations at Conference Contacts. With over 20 years' experience spanning both hotels and event management agencies, he and his team work very closely with some of our largest accounts. They love his humour, coupled with his calm and collected style, secure in the knowledge he always delivers.
